WHAT IS GOING ON TONIGHT

Moving Pictures and Illustrated Songs at Broad Theater.
Vaudeville at Rustic Theater at Lincoln Park.

A Summer Appetizer—A teaspoonful of Horsford's Acid Phosphate in a glass of water stimulates appetite and quenches thirst.

Lower prices today (Saturday) is the way Frank A. Bill takes to get rid of all summer shoes and oxfords. He offers ladies' $1.50 and $2 white canvas oxfords at 98c; the $2.50 and $3 ones for $1.48. Men's $3 patent oxfords $1.98. It will pay you to visit his store today.

Popular Excursion to Newport.

Special attention is called to the last popular excursion of the season to Newport, queen of watering places, under the direction of the N. Y. N. H. & H. R. R. Co.

Train leaves Norwich at 9.06 a. m. Thursday, Aug. 15th, connecting at New London with the Norwich line steamer City of Lowell, due Newport 1.30 p. m. Rate for round trip $1.

In past seasons these combined rail and marine trips have proved exceedingly popular and those wishing to participate should purchase their tickets at once, as only a limited number have been assigned.

BREED THEATER.

"Washington, Under the American Flag" Brilliant Feature.

The Breed theater was again packed to the doors last evening proving the popularity of this picture house, the marvelous pictures, the wonderful truthfulness to nature, and their perfection in the exhibition of them. With as perfect and as expensive machines as can be procured, the most closest attention to the countless details of this rapidly growing business, Manager McNulty has succeeded in producing the very finest results in his theater and the extreme courtesy to all attending patrons has served to build the name and reputation of this most popular motion picture house.

The wonderful picture of "Washington Under the American Flag" with its various incidents relative to the establishing of our republic, are extremely interesting and correct, while "The Cardinal's Conspiracy," is one of the brightest and prettiest things ever seen here in a long time. "Inspiring Sunsets" is without doubt one of the most entrancing portrayals of Dams Nature ever made.

Little Harry Noonan, the sweet voiced singer of the Breed, sang the fascinating song, "You Can't Stop Me from Loving You," and was greeted with applause before he began to sing, and later sang the great national song, "Honor That We Know," with portraits of all the nation's favorites.

LINCOLN PARK.

Some of the best vaudeville talent in the country is coming to Lincoln park next week. Lew "Tip" Reed is a black-face comedian, one of the best in the business, and he will be seen in "A Monkey Honeymoon," which has made his audiences roar wherever it has been produced. Kelly and Adams are finished character artists, who introduce some glib edge Irish dialect, jokes and songs, and also put on real Irish dances. Mavolia is a juggling wire artist, entertaining, unique and original. McGrow and Heins are old-time minstrels and, as they are the original two-man minstrel show, this pair should make a first rate hit. Rice and Elmer give "A Ruben's Visit to China-town," which is understood to be extraordinarily funny.

All the recent performers at the park have privately informed Manager Cranston that the fine acts he has booked for next week are the real thing. They have seen them put on in several places and they know.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3.20 will come the customary free Sunday concert. The entertainment is bound to be good. Several musical people in the city have been heard to say this week that Miss Gerard's rendering of Tom Moore's beautiful Irish ballad, "The Last Rose of Summer," which this pretty and sweet voiced singer gives as an encore number, is rarely excelled anywhere.

Next Thursday night will be rocket night at the park. There were no rockets set on Thursday night and for their absence there was a reason. Rockets cannot be safely sent up from a crowded park that is not only full of people but full of trees. The rockets will start from a point outside but within full view of all the patrons, both in the pavilion and in other parts of the grounds.

NOT TO ELECTRIFY.

New Haven Road Will Not Run Freight Trains by New Method Yet.

The brief announcement made recently of the placing of an order for two electric freight locomotives by the New York, New Haven Hartford Railroad company seems to have been misinterpreted. There is no immediate prospect that the company will handle its freight trains electrically in the vicinity of New York. The situation is very different from the conditions which led to the adoption of electric locomotives for the passenger business. In the latter case, steam locomotives were forbidden by law after a certain date, and the company had no alternative but to select electricity. Its engineers chose single-phase machines equipped to take direct current on the Grand Central station lines as far as Westtown, where the junction with the New Haven Road made.

The choice of the type of locomotive was not made until long after the New York Central engineers had selected direct-current machines, says The Engineers' Record. The locomotives were built as rapidly as possible in the shops, and many of them went into regular service after trial runs of but a few miles. The power plant and line work were similarly rushed, and it was inevitable that the first few months of operation should develop troubles that led poorly informed people to criticize the system.

HAD VARIED CAREER.

Col. Addis, Just Died in New Haven, Was Decorated by King of Spain.

Col. Thomas E. Addis, for years general agent of a New Haven arms company, died at New Haven house, where he had apartments, Tuesday, August 10, after a long illness. He was never married. Col. Addis was born May 14, 1846, and had a varied career, in the course of which he had traveled all over the world. Many years ago he was decorated by the king of Spain, Alfonso XII. His title of colonel was gained in Mexico during the troubles which surrounded the campaigns of Maximilian. His last long trip was taken two years ago, when he traversed Eurasia, the whole length of the trans-Siberian railroad. Some time ago he became acutely ill and he returned to New Haven.

Worry over ill-health does your health no good, and merely causes wrinkles, that make you look older than you are.
